Turtles to amble to victory in annual Hoopeston Jaycees event

On your mark. Get set. Go!

Go!

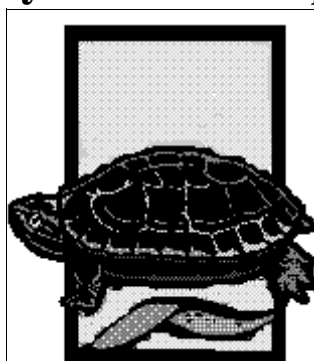

I said GO!

That might be heard Saturday when the Hoopeston Jaycees hold their annual Turtle Derby at 10 a.m. on Bank St.

Approximately 60 turtles, purchased from Pet and Hobby World in Danville, are expected to race, er, crawl to the finish line.

The race will be divided into heats. The winners of each heat will compete in the finals, said project chairman Teresa Pickett.

Turtles are sponsored primarily by local businesses, Pickett said. "There are quite a few new businesses this year," she added.

Sponsors of each heat-winning turtle will receive a plaque while the grand prize winner will take home a trophy.

Once racing is complete, sponsors make take their turtles home. Those that are not taken will go to the McFerren Park lagoon.

While the race is slow fun for a summer day, the money raised from the event funds some serious Jaycees projects, including underprivileged children's Christmas programs, Pickett said. This year, some of the proceeds will also go to the Hoopeston Multi Agency, she said.
